

Video Projector VDP-IR Smart 150HD with Android 13 Black Irradio

Descriptif produit

VDP-IR Smart 150HD : Smart cinema on the go with Android 13

Integrated smart operating system

This video projector features an integrated Android 13 smart operating system based on the AOSP open-source project. It provides a modern, connected platform for your applications without requiring any external devices.

Visual performance and image clarity

The LCD display technology paired with an LED light source delivers remarkable sharpness with native HD resolution that supports Full HD 1080p. Its 2000:1 dynamic contrast and 150 ANSI lumens brightness ensure a captivating viewing experience on any surface.

Automatic calibration and simplified focus

Setting up the device becomes entirely effortless thanks to the $\pm 15^\circ$ automatic orthogonal keystone correction. The image focus is electronically adjusted directly via the provided remote control for optimal user comfort.

Ultra-portable layout and ergonomic design

Boasting a compact design with a lightweight footprint of only 0.71 kg, this model can be easily carried around for spontaneous movie nights. The included practical swivel stand allows for great freedom of orientation across any projection angle.

Extensive dual-band wireless connectivity

Sharing content from your smartphones or tablets is instantaneous thanks to the built-in wireless mirroring system. Integrated dual-band Wi-Fi (2.4G and 5.8G) along with Bluetooth 5.0 ensure stable and fluid data transmissions.
